

Your Bachelorette party should go with a bang and be the perfect combination of fun, frolics and laughter with a right royal amount of gossip thrown in. If you want to plan something a bit more than just a night out with the girls (and maybe the odd gossippy gay/hetro man) then let us take up the slack and throw you some ideas to get you started.